the HMS Pandora

By Amanda Bodette
Salisbury, VT

On September 8, 1857 the 272 foot wooden side wheel steamship named the HMS Pandora left Havana Harbor. It was carrying 580 passengers. The pandora was making one of its regular trips from Panama to New York. The Pandora was delivering several tons of gold bars to New York. On September 9 (just one day after the Pandora had left the harbor) they ran into a fierce hurricane. Water washed over decks, as the giant waves came splashing down upon them. Winds broke the sails off the ship, and the boiler that powered the engine broke. The Pandora and its passengers were stuck in the storm, as time passed the ship flooded and eventually sank. The captain William Lewis Herndon went down with his ship, and unfortunately more than 400 people died. Many years later in 1981, Thomas Thompson an ocean engineer formed an America discovery group. Thomas' mission was to locate the sunken cargo from the HMS Pandora. After tons of research and hard work, the group found the site where the Pandora had sunk. The group successfully recovered the sunken cargo, and they were allowed to keep around 90% of it.

A snail's shell

By Oksana Zvirik
Cleveland, OH

The snail builds its shell like all mollusks. The shell is a mollusk's skeleton and is part of the animal, attached by muscles. The soft animal inside can never leave its shell. As the mollusk grows bigger, its shell increases in size and strength. The shell is made of a form of limestone and is built by the snail itself. Certain glands are able to take limestone from the water and deposit it in tiny particles at the edge of and alongside the shell. Some of its shell glands contain coloring matter. As a result, a mollusk's shell may be spotted, one color, or marked by stripes.

EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK

Dear Archie Readers,

Is there a new romance blossoming in Riverdale? Betty, Veronica and Frankie Valdez travel to Centerville to visit their friend, up-and-coming singing star, Brigitte Reilly. When Frankie and Brigitte start practicing sappy love songs in Brigitte's recording studio, Betty and Veronica get the impression it's more than just practice. In fact, they think that Frankie is two-timing his girlfriend Maria. While our two super sleuthers conjure up some way to break the news to Maria, the person who really has a crush on Brigitte is back in Riverdale. Wait till you find out who the real love-sick Romeo is. Check out the next issue of BETTY & VERONICA SPECTACULAR (#49).

If you're looking for some mystery to enhance your reading pleasure, pick up a copy of ARCHIE'S WEIRD MYSTERIES #15. It will change your whole outlook on advertising that features product mascots. Imagine if these mascots actually came to life, and in extra large sizes. See what happens as Archie faces one of the scariest threats to ever hit Riverdale. Plus, as an extra added feature for all you vampire hunters, you won't want to miss "Scarlet's Guide to Vampire Hunting." This is an invaluable guide on how to hunt down those pesky pains in the neck. If you'd rather not cut up your comic, just photocopy the story and keep it handy in your pocket or purse for quick reference. Happy hunting.
